

A Tribute to the 11 NYC Sandwiches That Are Getting Us Through the Pandemic

Senior critic Robert Sietsema delivers a heartfelt “thank you” to a favorite food category

by Robert Sietsema | Apr 22, 2021, 4:48pm EDT

Photos by Robert Sietsema

11. Polpette all Parmigiana Panozzi at Coco Pizzeria You can get a great meatball hero smothered in indifferent mozzarella at any pizzeria in town, but Coco Pizzeria wreaks changes on the classic pizza parlor item. The meatball hero ($14) at this new restaurant has been exalted through the use of a crustier, more artisanal bread than is usual, a zippier tomato sauce, and genuinely good mozzarella. And its compactness makes it easier to eat. 307 Spring Street, at Renwick Street, Hudson Square

Polpette all parmigiana panozzi
